

UConn

Get Your Ph.D. Paid For!

BRIDGE TO THE DOCTORATE FELLOWSHIP

Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is looking for applicants for the Bridge to the Doctorate program who would like to pursue a MS/PhD in STEM majors. This program is sponsored by the National Science Foundation Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation (LSAMP).

HOW TO APPLY?

Contact Aida Ghiaei (aida.ghiaei@uconn.edu) and visit www.b2d.uconn.edu

WHAT DOES THE FELLOWSHIP INCLUDE?

The Bridge to the Doctorate fellowship is for the first two years with guaranteed support after the second year.

THE TWO YEAR FELLOWSHIP INCLUDES:

- Student stipends, up to $32,000 annually
- Tuition and fee supplement, up to $12,000 annually
- Health insurance
- Faculty mentoring and advising
- Opportunities to research and internship at companies and national research labs
- Opportunities to participate in national and professional conferences
- Academic support
- Professional development workshops
- Mentoring network and Career development

APPLY NOW!

Contact Aida Ghiaei
(aida.ghiaei@uconn.edu)
or visit www.b2d.uconn.edu